

Formpro Mail Marketing “most secure”

Recent *CLAS accreditation confirms Formpro Mail Marketing as one of the most secure mailing houses in the UK.

The company has undergone the most rigorous process of physical and software upgrades in the last six months to ensure it achieves this highly prestigious recognition.

The process was managed by FMM Production Director Colin Mattinson and Solutions Director Kevin Pembroke.

“We’ve had to satisfy the most demanding set of security criteria in order to achieve this” said Mattinson. “But I’m enormously proud of what we have achieved and this will enable us to give our clients and those who need to be certain of the safety of their client communications real peace of mind.”

The CLAS accreditation will make Formpro Mail Marketing an obvious choice for work where security is of paramount importance particularly in government, financial insurance and healthcare communications.
